November 4, 2010

Dear Friends:

Despite the wonderful theme “Open Hearts – Open Minds,” it is somewhat difficult to acknowledge the 25th Anniversary of Riverstone Senior Life Services. For one thing, I occasionally slip and say “99 Fort Wash” or “Fort Washington Senior Center.” But the truth is, it’s hard to imagine our community without this wonderful resource, under whatever banner or name. Has it really been only 25 years? It seems like Riverstone has been part of our community forever.

Riverstone has always been a community based organization in the truest sense. How lucky are we to have a community with both the professional expertise and the compassion to guide this not-for-profit group? Riverstone has led the way in developing innovative adult day programs for patients and caregivers as well as offering a wide array of recreational and supportive health programs.

These services did not develop or get delivered in a vacuum. We have an energetic volunteer board and a competent staff – both extremely dedicated to their mission. I am honored to salute their work at the same time that I join Riverstone in recognizing its 2010 honorees for their significant if distinctively different efforts to understand and cope with Alzheimer’s disease:

Dr. Karen Bel I & Jed Levine

It is a great pleasure to celebrate this special anniversary; I look forward to future milestones.

In Unity,

Robert Jackson
